NOTE THE NUMBERS

A warning to motor car drivers on lost licenses was issued this week by Justice of the Peace Howard C. Fritsch.

"Many cases have been reported of driver's licenses having been lost," Mr. Fritsch said. "As there are a million and a half resident automobile operators in the State, it has been found impossible for the State Motor Vehicle Department to make a trace for any licenses lost, in order to furnish the drivers with the much-needed duplicates. Accordingly, it is suggested that motorists keep a record of their driver's license number, so that in case the license is lost, a duplicate license can be furnished by the State Board at a cost of fifty cents.

"Otherwise, if no record of the license number is kept, it will be necessary for the loser of a license to secure a learner's permit, and undergo the entire process of taking out a new license."

TWO NARBERTH MEN TO RUN FOR OFFICE IN MAY

sioners at Norristown. These show a heavy enrollment of Republican voters in all parts of Montgomery county.

There is a typical "on" year registration, and in the county at large there are 92,375 voters eligible to vote in the primaries. There were 21,319 who failed to enroll.

In the borough of Narberth the percentage of enrolled voters is most satisfactory. There are 2432 registered voters here, and of this number 2256 enrolled during the registration days early last month. Only 176 neglected to sign up.

In the county and the township at large there are more men enrolled than women, but in Narberth there are more eligible women voters than men. Women outnumber the men in every one of the three districts.

The figures are:
Republican: District 1, 316 men and 348 women; District 2, 363 men and 401 women; District 3, 235 men and 264 women.

Democratic: District 1, 55 men and 70 women; District 2, 67 men and 61 women; District 3, 42 men and 76 women.

Not enrolled: District 1, 106; District 2, 58; District 3, 12.
State Candidates.

Republican candidates for the State-wide offices are: Governor, John S. Fisher, Indiana; Philip H. Dewey, master of the State Grange, Gaines; Edward E. Beideman, former Lieutenant Governor, Harrisburg; John K. Tener, former Governor, Charleroi; Thomas W. Phillips, Jr., Butler, at present a member of Congress, and Frank P. Croft, Port Kennedy.

Lieutenant Governor—Lieutenant Colonel Ernest G. Smith, of Wilkes-Barre; State Senator Fletcher W. Stites, Montgomery county; Charles J. Esterly, member of Congress, of Berks county; Major General Charles M. Clement, Sunbury; Frank P. B. Thompson, Philadelphia; Mrs. Frances M. Hooker, Philadelphia, and Arthur H. James, of Plymouth.

Secretary of Internal Affairs—James F. Woodward, the present Secretary; Frederick E. Godcharles, of Milton, and Isadore H. Pilvonsky, of Shenandoah.

The Democratic candidates for these offices are: Governor, Judge William E. Porter, New Castle; Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell, Philadelphia, and Judge Samuel E. Shull, Stroudsburg.

Lieutenant Governor—John Walter, Mayor of Lebanon, and W. C. Hackett, of Easton.

Secretary of Internal Affairs—John Murphy, of Pittsburgh and Lewis C. Cassidy, of Philadelphia.

ENTERTAINMENT PLANS CHIEF SCOUT TOPICTreasure Hunts and Inspection Also on Roster.

Two more weeks! Oh, Boy! That's the familiar expression around the cabin among the Boy Scouts. The annual entertainment of the local organization is the main topic of discussion and everything according to the best "dope" among the boys will be in "apple-pie order" by the night of April 16 when the first performance will be given. On the following evening, the entertainment will be supplemented by a dance which will be held in the gymnasium of the school building.

Tickets were distributed among the boys yesterday and today. Each boy will be required to sell a minimum of 14 tickets in order to entitle him to a week's stay at Camp Delmont this summer. The Scouts, themselves, are the only ones who have been authorized to sell tickets. The prices have been set at 50 cents for Friday night's affair, and 75 cents for Saturday.

This week's regular meeting of the two troops at the cabin was devoted entirely to the discussion of the entertainment. Plans were laid to give on both nights a miniature session of a regular Scout meeting. This is in line with the effort the Fathers' Association is making to acquaint the parents with the nature of the work that is being carried on. One of the patrol leaders will conduct the meeting.

While the school auditorium will afford more seating capacity than was available in previous years, the space is limited and only enough tickets have been printed to fill the room comfortably each night.

Just prior to this week's regular meeting, a mile pacing test was conducted by First-class Scout Byron Morton. Those who successfully passed the test were R. Graham, F. Robb, K. Monnington, A. McCarthy, Richard Sigel, J. Keefe and G. Knapp.

The second hike of the season is being taken today. Similarly to last week, the Scouts will leave the cabin under sealed orders and a treasure hunt will be conducted. Bob Harris was the successful Scout in locating the treasure last week. That hike took the boys over to Gladwyn Hills and on down to the Schuylkill River.

Camp cooking will be a feature of today's hike. The Scouts were instructed to carry "the makings" of a lunch which would be cooked after a suitable location had been chosen by those who are making a special study of camping and woodcraft. The fire, naturally, will be kindled in true pioneer fashion, without the use of matches. Each of these specialties is in line with the study of the several subjects by the boys.

During this week's meeting Scout Garric, field executive of the organization for Delaware and Montgomery counties, was present and after talking to the boys about their work, held an official inspection.

The boys had previously been advised and with the complete membership in full regulation uniform they presented a fine appearance for which Mr. Garric complimented them in glowing terms. He was well pleased with their appearance and work, and in his official report, so he informed the scoutmasters, he gave both troops an "A" rating.

STILL AFTER SPEEDERS

The campaign against automobile speeders which the lower Merion police began two weeks ago continues. A dozen were picked up the past week and fined after given hearings before Magistrate Kromer in the Ardmore police station.

Thirty miles an hour is the limit set, and all who drive over that rate are liable to arrest and fine. Police are keeping a watch on Lancaster and Montgomery pikes, the main highways of the township.

DANCING ON LANE

The Lantwyn Lane Association, of which Mr. Walter Knauer is president, held a dance March 20 in the sample house erected by the S. W. Sargent Company. Music for the dancing was furnished by the Original "Red Hot" Harmony Kings, a jazz orchestra composed of local boys.

A flock of large white birds was seen flying overhead last Tuesday. One expert said they were whistling swans.

ANOTHER COP MOVED

Officer Leon Earl Wiley has been moved from the Narberth district to General Wayne. His place has been taken by a new member of the force, Joe Kelly. Wiley is the third Narberth policeman to be transferred during the past few weeks. Girvin is now in Merion and DeBona in Cynwyd. They were replaced by Emil Piquet and David Maxwell.

Making the streets safe for pedestrians will probably be accomplished at about the same time the world is made safe for democracy.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my former neighbor and friend, Lillian Simmons Townsend, who passed into the great unknown March 31, 1923:

When all is done, say not your day is o'er. And that thro' night you seek a dinner shore:

Say rather that your morn has just begun— You greet the dawn and not a setting sun. When all is done.

7.45 P. M.—Evening worship. The church quartet, assisted by a chorus choir, will render the beautiful Easter cantata "The Resurrection," by C. F.
Manney. Mr. Van Ness will deliver a brief sermon on the theme "Living in the Power of an Endless Life."

Next Wednesday evening a preparatory meeting will be held, looking forward to the celebration of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper the following Sunday morning. Rev. Park Hays Miller will preach the sermon next Wednesday evening.

Next Wednesday, at 2.30 P. M., the Women's Missionary Society will hold their regular monthly meeting. A unique program is being arranged, including a brief missionary sketch. All women of the congregation are cordially invited.

The various departments of the Bible school will assemble tomorrow morning for the opening exercises in the

BAPTIST CHURCH OF THE EVANGEL

Robert E. Keighton, minister.

Services for April 4:

9.45 A. M.—Church school. A special session of the entire school meets in the church auditorium for united expressions of the Easter message and spirit.

11 A. M.—Morning worship and communion; sermon, "The Resurrection—A Readjustment." At the close of the morning worship there will be the dedication of children, the reception of new members and the observance of the Lord's Supper.

7 P. M.—Young People's service.
This will be a service unique in the history of young people's societies. We are uniting with the B. Y. P. U. of America in a "conversation" Sunday.
If you are interested in "something new and worth while for young people" we invite you to attend this service.

7.45 P. M.—Evening worship and baptism; sermon, "Outrunning Peter."
The ordinance of baptism will be administered to several of our young people. Again this service reminds us of our opportunities for mutual inspiration and service.

Tuesday, April 6, 10.30 A. M.—White
Cross. Luncheon will be served.
Wednesday, April 7, 8 P. M.—Prayer service. This service will be an open discussion of our missionary program, budget and opportunities.

CARD PARTY HELD

The first of a series of afternoon card parties for the benefit of the American Legion Auxiliary of the Harold B. Speakman Post, No. 356, Narberth, was held at the home of Mrs. Walter O. Sullivan, 512 Brookhurst avenue, Narberth, on Thursday afternoon, March 25. It was very much enjoyed by those who attended, and the Auxiliary hopes to have a still larger crowd at the next party, which will be announced through the columns of "Our Town."

What ST. MARY'S LAUNDRY

Means

TO THE MAIN LINE

Hundreds of homes are relieved of family washing cares each week—a day's time saved for each home—many years of leisure, youth and health are given to the women along the Main Line.

A few years ago the laundry was exclusively a shirt and collar business—today St. Mary's Laundry not only cares for the entire bundle, but it cares for it in exactly the way the patron desires.

To make laundry service accessible to every family St. Mary's Laundry has spent large sums of money in the best of equipment.

Because of the wide variety of services St.
Mary's Laundry has become the Wash Day
Servant of hundreds of Main Line families.

St. Mary's Laundry offers services to fit every family's budget—all ironed services, partially ironed services—services in which the clothes are returned damp to be ironed at home.
You have all these to choose from.

MARCH BOOK LIST

The books added to the Narberth Community Library this month include stories from many of the best known and most popular novelists. There are seventeen of these. While there are not so many new non-fiction books all of the seven are intensely interesting. Bryce's "American Commonwealth" has already rendered valuable assistance to the high school boys and girls in the preparation of their essays on the Constitution. And the book on Oriental rugs will delight the housewife with its pictures of rugs in all their lovely colorings. The titles of the other books speak for themselves. Following is the list of books purchased during the month of March:

Non-Fiction.

"American Commonwealth" (new edition), James Bryce.
"Byways and Boulevards in and About Historic Philadelphia," Brandt and Gummere.
"Dictionary of English and French Language," Tauchnitz.
"Hand Book of American Prisons," National Secretary of Penal Information.
"Life of Nelson," Robert Southey.
"Practical Book of Oriental Rugs" (gift of the Fortnightly Club), G. Griffin Lewis.
"Selected English Essays," W. Peacock, editor.

Fiction.

"Black Flemings," Kathleen Norris. The romance of the last daughter of the house of Fleming.
"Blue Window," Temple Bailey. A young girl's fight to retain her ideals when suddenly transplanted from a country home to a wealthy city house.
"Glass Houses," Eleanor Gizeyka. Modern society, with a young Frenchman who is seeking a wealthy American wife—and then he meets a girl.
"Golden Beast," E. Phillips Oppenheim. A mystery story hinging on the disappearance of three members of rich and powerful families.
"Great Short Stories of the World," Barrett H. Clark and Max Lieber. Containing 177 separate stories by the great masters of various nations.
"Hounds of Spring," Sylvia Thompson. Dramatic story of a girl who loses her fiancé through death, and becoming hopeless and indifferent marries without love.

"Leading Lady," Geraldine Bonner. A party on a desert island, a murder and no clue to which of the party was guilty, but everyone suspecting everyone else.

"Lone Hand," Joseph B. Ames. The story of the wild, bad days of Wyoming, when every man was a law unto himself.

"Mary Glenn," Sarah G. Millin. The pitiful story of a woman who goes through childhood, wifehood and motherhood with the image of her own importance always before her.

"The Panchatantra" (from the Sanskrit). The translator is Arthur W. Ryder. A collection of stories that rivals the Arabian Nights.
"Pig Iron," Charles G. Norris. The story of the making of a millionaire and the futility of success.

"Relations," Sir Harry Johnston. Of a man who amasses a fortune in Australia and then decides upon a political career.

"Rex," E. F. Benson. Of a self-centered, hard young man, unmoved by the death of his father and out of sympathy with everyone. Then comes the love of a woman.

"Rhoda Fair," Clarence Buddington Kelland. A girl's battle with the law and the outlawed that reaches a stirring climax in the shadow of the Holy Land.

"Riders of the Wind," Elswyth Thane. The daughter of a Viking line breaks the bond of her misalliance and goes to Asia with an adventurous youth as she would go with her own brother.

"Shepards," Marie Oenter. The story of the family of the pastor of a church in a factory district of the city.
"Starbrace," Sheila Kaye-Smith. The story of a scapegoat youth who turns highwayman in England of the eighteenth century. (Just published in this country.)

EXCUSES AND REASONS

There is a big difference between an excuse and a reason, the former being only a subterfuge, something to hide behind, covering up of or the shifting of responsibility to other shoulders than one's own, while the latter, "reason," is the basic cause for a conclusion or an action. It is something real, unrefutable, admitting of study, but not of argument.

The retail grocer may offer the excuse of lack of opportunity, which has no basic reason to it, for, notwithstanding all the buying power of big capital, the retail grocer can lay down in his store a package of almost any goods as cheaply as the chain stores can lay it down in theirs and at a lower overhead expense.

Now, as to that other very necessary essential to a successful business—PERSONALITY—a retail grocer certainly should be able to exercise and exert more of this constructive element in his business than is possible, or at least probable, by any chain store manager or clerk. Therefore, it will only be an excuse and no good reason if fear of competition along this line is entertained. OUR AIM—TO GIVE THE BEST AT LOWEST COST.
